

David's Birthday Present

By Hillary Lam

Today is David's birthday. Kelly and Tom are talking. They want to buy a present for David. Kelly says, 'Let's go to the toy shop.' Tom says, 'Good idea!' They feel happy.

Then, they go to the toy shop. They see a lot of toy cars and a teddy bear. Kelly says, 'I suggest buying a toy car.' Tom says, 'Good idea! Let's go inside the toy shop.' They feel terrific.

Next, they want to buy a pink toy car. Kelly asks the shopkeeper, 'How much is the toy car?' The shopkeeper says, 'It's fifty-five dollars.' Tom says, 'We do not have enough money to buy it.' They feel disappointed.

After that, Kelly says, 'Can you tell me which one is cheaper?' The shopkeeper says, 'This blue toy car is only fifty dollars.' Tom says, 'That's good!' Kelly says, 'Let's buy it.' They say, 'Thank you.' The shopkeeper says, 'You're welcome.' They feel pleased. David gets a present and he feels surprised. What a tiring day!
