

A Shopping Experience

by Kwok Ki Lok Oliver

Yesterday, Peter and his mum went shopping in Tai Tai Market. Peter asked, 'What do you want to buy, Mum?' 'I want to buy some apples and oranges,' replied Mum. Peter felt excited because he enjoyed shopping with his mum. They felt delighted.

A few minutes later, they went to the fruit stall on the second floor. They chose some apples and oranges to buy. 'These apples are big and fresh today!' said Mum excitedly. They were glad.

In the meantime, a lady was choosing apples while a man was walking towards her. The man tried to steal the lady's purse from her handbag. 'Mum! The man is trying to steal the lady's purse! What should we do?' asked Peter. They were worried.

Luckily, a policeman was patrolling nearby. He saw the bad man and caught him. The lady thought that she was lucky that her purse was not stolen by the man. 'Be careful, protect your belongings. Don't let others steal from you,' said the policeman. The lady replied, 'OK, I will.' They all felt pleased because they caught the thief successfully.
