

Good manners in public places

By Chu Anthony Chun Lung

Hello, my name is Anthony Chu. I'm in class 5E. I'm writing this article because I want to tell you some good manners in common public places.

First, I want to talk about how we should behave on public transport and at the bus stop or train station. People go to bus stops or train stations to take the bus or train when they want to travel from one place to another. How should we behave on public transport and at bus stops or train stations? At the stations, we should line up and wait patiently for the public transport. We shouldn't get on the train or bus when the doors are closing because you will probably get hurt if you do so. On the bus or the train, we shouldn't eat or drink, and we mustn't smoke either. We shouldn't stand on the upper deck of the bus when the bus is moving. We should talk softly. We shouldn't disturb the bus driver. Most importantly, we shouldn't do disgusting stuff.

Second, I will talk about how to behave in the restaurants. People go to the restaurants to have meals when they are hungry, thirsty or they simply want to eat something. How do we behave there? We should eat quietly. We shouldn't eat messily in Western restaurants. However, it's okay to eat messily in Chinese restaurants. We should speak politely to the waiter or waitress. Besides, if you made a reservation, we should arrive early and we shouldn't be late.

Do you have good manners in public places? If you don't, you can read this article and remember the good manners!
